NOTE

A full description of the origin and method of the British Union-Catalogue of Periodicals is given in the introductory matter to the first volume. In the following pages only matter of immediate use in the consultation of this volume is repeated.

Once more we are indebted to the staff of the British Museum Library for much ready and kindly help. In particular we are grateful for assistance in the revision of entries in many foreign languages. For this we thank Mr G. J. R. Arnold, Mrs L. M. Arnold, Mr R. F. L. Bancroft, Dr A. M. Cain, Mr R. J. Fulford, Mr J. C. W. Horne, Dr D. E. Rhodes, Miss A. E. C. Simoni and Mr H. G. Whitehead.

Thanks are also due once more to Mr H. M. Cashmore who has placed his great bibliographical knowledge at our disposal by reading the entire volume in proof.

BRITISH UNION-CATALOGUE OF PERIODICALS, L-R .. 1

ARRANGEMENT AND USE

METHOD OF ENTRY

The Catalogue is arranged in alphabetical order of titles.

All periodicals having specific individual titles, whether issued independently or by organizations, are entered under the first word, other than an article, of their names. A periodical issued by any kind of organization is entered under the name of the organization if (a) this name forms a direct or indirect part of the main title, or (b) the title is not specific in itself.

Annals of botany. 1-50, ns 1- . Oxford. 1887-1936, 1937-
Apollo. A journal of the arts. 1- . Jan. 1925- .
Arbitrator, The. Organ of the Workmen's peace association. 1885-89.
Arboricultural Society of Ireland. Transactions. 1. Dublin. 1831.
Association of American geographers. Annals. 1- . Albany, N.Y. 1911- .

For facility of use it is important to note that in the case of the publications of societies, academies, organizations and institutions in general, such words as "Acta," "Bulletin," "Journal," "Mitteilungen," "Proceedings," "Reports," "Transactions," etc., which are in common use, are not regarded as specific individual titles. In all such cases, entry is made under the name of the issuing organization, where full particulars will be found.

Academy of medicine, Toronto.
— Bulletin. 1- . 1927- .
— Transactions. [Unnumbered], ns. 1-3. 1857-1904, 1919-22.
American gladiolus society. Official bulletin. 1-4^{11}. Goshen, Ind. April 1924-Nov. 1927. then The Gladiolus review. 4^{12}-13^{2}. Dec. 1927-Jan. 1936, March-Aug. 1937.

(With a reference from Gladiolus review.)

American society of clinical laboratory technicians ⟨Nov. 1935- of medical technologists⟩. Bulletin. 1. Detroit. Nov. 1934-Nov. 1935. then American journal of medical technology. 2- . 1936- .

(With a reference from American journal of medical technology.)

As in the examples quoted above, it frequently occurs that a publication of an institution or society may commence as (e.g.) "Journal," and change subsequently to "Proceedings" or "Transactions," or some distinctive title, often with the volume-numbering running throughout, or with the introduction of new series. By the grouping together of publications of a society or institution, both ease of reference and the orderly presentation of library holdings are facilitated.

When, however, a society or institution issues a publication which has a distinctive title of its own from the beginning, entry is made directly under the name of the publication, and a reference to the title is given from the name of the society, etc.

Agricultural progress. The journal of the Agricultural education association. 1- . 1924-40, 1943- .

(With a reference from the Agricultural education association.)

All periodicals are entered under their earliest-known names, followed by particulars of all changes of name in their chronological sequence. References are given from all later names to the original name.

Accountants' students' journal, The. 1-3^{36}. 1 May 1883-1 April 1886. then The Accountants' journal. 4^{37}-53^{636}. 1 May 1886-1 April 1936. then The Accountant student and accountants' journal. ns. 1-4^{48}. May 1936-April 1940. then The Student. A magazine for accountancy, secretarial and banking students. 5^{49}-6^{72}. May 1940-April 1942.

(With references to Accountants' students' journal from Accountants' journal, Accountant student and accountants' journal, and Student.)

Archives wallonnes de stomatologie. 1. Liége. 1946. then with Annales belges de stomatologie as Archives de stomatologie. 2- . 1947- .

(With reference to Archives wallonnes de stomatologie from Archives de stomatologie.)

Similarly all academies, societies, universities and other organizations are entered under their original names, with particulars of alternative names and all changes, amalgamations, incorporations, etc., so far as these are known. References from all these variants to the original names are given:

Académie ⟨r.⟩ de médecine de Belgique ⟨K. Academie van geneeskunde van België; K. Belgische academie van geneeskunde⟩.

with references:

Academie van geneeskunde van België, K.=Académie r. de médecine de Belgique.
Belgische academie van geneeskunde, K.=Académie r. de médecine de Belgique.

Certain institutions or organizations, such as botanical gardens, colleges, hospitals, museums, observatories and zoological gardens, which are independent and do not have distinctive names, are entered under the names of the places in which they are situated.

The names of countries, states and towns when used as headings are entered under their current English forms. In imprints, however, they are given as they appear in the periodical.

Government departments and official institutions in general are entered under the names of countries or localities. In some cases where a government department or institution has a distinctive name (e.g. British Museum and National Physical Laboratory), entries are made directly under these names with references from the country, etc.

The place of publication is not given when it can be clearly inferred, and when it is London, Paris and Berlin in the case of English, French and German periodicals respectively.

REFERENCES

(a) References are made from all alternative, subsequent and subsidiary titles of a periodical to the title (in heavy type) under which full particulars are to be found:

Adult education, 1934- =Journal of adult education.
Adventure-story magazine, Hutchinson's.
Aero digest=Aeronautical digest.
Alimentation et la vie=Revue. Société scientifique d'hygiène alimentaire &c.
Allgemeine medizinische Zeitung=Medizinische National-Zeitung.
Helminthological abstracts=Journal of helminthology. Supplement.
Repertorium der Pharmacie=Apothekerzeitung. Beiblatt.

(b) Similar references are made from alternative or subsequent names of institutions, societies, universities and other organizations:

Academia ludoviciana=Academia gissena.
Acadian entomological society=Entomological society of Nova Scotia.
Alliance coopérative internationale=International co-operative alliance.

(c) References are also made, whenever it is appropriate, from the names of subordinate bodies, such as special committees, departments, etc., to the names of their parent bodies:

Animal products research foundation. University of Adelaide.
Association d'hydrologie scientifique. Union géodésique et géophysique internationale.

(d) Under the names of institutions, societies, universities, etc., will be found the titles of all their publications. If any of these publications have distinctive titles, their full particulars will be found under those titles, and reference to their place in the Union-Catalogue is indicated by heavy type as follows:

American antiquarian society.
— Archaeologia Americana.
— Proceedings.
— Report.
— Transactions and collections=Archaeologia Americana.

The entry in heavy type indicates the item that must be looked for under its own name in the general alphabet.

(e) General references in the following, or similar, terms:

See also under the names of institutions, societies, universities and other issuing bodies.

are made under certain titles where otherwise many (in some cases, thousands) of individual references of doubtful value would appear. These titles include, inter alia, the following:

Abhandlungen
Acta
Anales
Annales
Annals
Bericht
Boletín
Bulletin
Circular
Jahrbuch
Journal
Memoirs
Mitteilungen
Proceedings
Publications
Report
Transactions
Travaux
Trudui
Vestnik

In cases where the name of the issuing body has any element of doubt, the references supplied under (b) and (c) above should remove any difficulty.

DATES

Dates covered by a periodical are given before the place and/or date of publication when known. Dates of publication are given after the place of publication. When no date is shown in a periodical, an editorial estimate is given within square brackets. The dates of old English periodicals are expressed in new style.

NUMBERING OF VOLUMES, SERIES, ETC.

When the volumes of a periodical are numbered in series as well as consecutively, preference is given to the whole numbers and the series numbering is shown thus: 1-39 (12-21=ns 1-10; 22-39=3s 1-18). When the volumes are numbered only in series, the numbers of the volumes in each series are set out. In the particulars of holdings and in other editorial references series-numbers are represented by lower-case roman figures, thus: ii=2s; iii=3s.

Subsidiary numbering is indicated by superior figures, thus: $1\text{-}6^{12}$=vol. 1, No. 1 to vol. 6, No. 12.

ALPHABETICAL ORDER

In determining the alphabetical order of the entries, the following departures from a strict alphabetization have been made:

(a) Articles are printed but ignored, and initial articles are transposed. All conjunctions, prepositions and other minor connecting words are printed but ignored unless used initially:

Annales du magnétisme animal.
Annales de médecine.
Annales du midi.
Annales des mines de Belgique.
Annales musicologiques.
Annales de Normandie.
Annales d'oculistique.
Annales de la religion.
Annales romantiques, Les.

The arrangement is by the words printed in heavy type. This has been done to facilitate reference, and to avoid the uncertainties caused by such connecting words as de, de la, des, du, or for, of, etc., the observance of which would make much difference in the position of the titles in a sequence.

Portions of a title following the word " or " (or its equivalent) are ignored in the alphabetical arrangement.

(b) Titles beginning with numbers, e.g.,

8 en opbouw.
17 de dezembro, O.
XVIIIe siècle galant & littéraire, Le.
20th century.
20ste eeuw, De.

are placed, in numerical order, at the end of the Union-Catalogue after the alphabetical sequence.

(c) Periodicals having the same main title are arranged chronologically:

Antiquarian, The. 1832.
Antiquarian, The. 1^{1-4}. May-June 1871.
Antiquarian, The. Columbus, Ohio. 1897.
Antiquarian. 1-17^{5}. New York. Aug. 1923-Nov. 1931.

(d) Honorific adjectives in the names of societies, etc. are abbreviated to their initials and ignored in the alphabetical arrangement, unless (i) they are unusual, in which case they are not abbreviated; or (ii) they form an integral part of the names, in which case they are neither abbreviated nor ignored:

Academia española, Madrid, R.
Academia electoralis scientiarum.
Astronomical society of London ⟨,R.⟩.
Akademie der Wissenschaften in Wien, K.
Irish academy, R.
Royal Society.

(e) Certain words which are used in titles sometimes in the singular and sometimes in the plural are arranged in a single alphabetical sequence under an appropriate heading. Examples of such words are:

Abstract
Bericht
Bulletin
Collection
Compte rendu
Jahresbericht
Memoria
Monograph
Observation
Rapport
Record
Report
Result
Statistique

(f) Under certain comprehensive headings (e.g. Countries, Universities, Societies, etc.), general publications precede those issued by particular departments, sections, etc.

(g) Variant spellings of a word are amalgamated in a single sequence. This has been done not only to facilitate reference, but because the variations often occur in the successive titles of the same periodical. References are given from the forms not adopted for the inclusive sequence.

Examples of such amalgamations are Almanac and Almanack; the Italian Bollettino and Bullettino; Labor and Labour.

(h) Archaic spelling is reproduced but ignored in alphabetical arrangement. Thus " Centinel " is arranged with Sentinel, " Teutsch " with Deutsch, извѣстія with известия, etc. In all such cases, references are made from the archaic form of the word to the form under which it has been arranged.

In accordance with modern German orthography, words commencing with or containing ca, ce, ci, co, cri, cu and th are arranged with those commencing with or containing ka, ze, zi, ko, kri, ku and t. The German ae, oe and ue are arranged as ä, ö, and ü.

The Scandinavian å is alphabetized as aa; and the Icelandic ð and þ are arranged as dh and th.

References are given at the appropriate places in the main alphabet from the forms not adopted for arrangement.

SIGNS AND ABBREVIATIONS

⟨ ⟩	enclose changes of name or title, or alternative title and information taken from some part of the periodical other than the title-page.

nR	neue Reihe.
nr	nieuwe reeks.
ns	new series (nouvelle série).

TRANSLITERATION

Titles in Greek and in those Slavonic languages using the Cyrillic alphabet have been entered in Greek and Cyrillic characters respectively, followed by transliterations. As none of the codes of transliteration has been accepted as wholly satisfactory, we have adopted in general the methods practised by the British Museum. The soft sign of the Slavonic languages (ь) has, however, not been represented in our transliterations as it does not affect the alphabetical order. Also the Bulgarian ъ has been transliterated into ŭ, as was the practice until recently at the British Museum.

As in the General Catalogue of the British Museum, entries in Greek appear without accents.

All Cyrillic and Greek entries are arranged in the alphabetical order of their transliterations.

[Transliteration Tables follow overleaf.]

HOLDINGS

The holdings of the co-operating libraries are recorded for each periodical, the libraries being represented by symbols. (The list of libraries included, with their individual symbols, appears on pages xxi–xxxi.) In these symbols, the first part, consisting of a single capital letter or of a capital letter followed by one in lower case, represents the name of the town; the rest of the symbol represents the library. (In a few cases, changes of location since the symbols were allocated have caused exceptions to this plan.)

A detailed account of each library's holdings is given, so far as it is possible to do so with reasonable brevity. The following conventions have been used:

A = library A contains a complete set (or a complete set to date).
B 3-46 = library B contains vols. 3-46.
C 3-6, 8-40 = library C contains vols. 3-6 and 8-40.
D (w 17) = library D contains a set wanting only vol. 17.
E 6-8*, 14-18 = library E contains vols. 6-8 and 14-18 of which vols. 6-8 are imperfect.
F 1-22 (5, 14*) = library F contains a set of vols. 1-22 of which 5 and 14 are imperfect.
G iii 8-vi 6 = library G contains a set running from vol. 8 of the third series to vol. 6 of the sixth series.
H (7*) = library H contains a complete set, of which vol. 7 only is imperfect.

Library holdings are specified by volume numbers unless dates are clearly more useful. In some cases, however, the information supplied by co-operating libraries has consisted of dates only; and, unless the dates were capable of obvious interpretation by volume numbers, it has been considered desirable to indicate such holdings by dates. In order to avoid confusion, wherever some holdings are shown by dates amongst others shown by volume numbers, the dates are printed in italics.

The following examples illustrate the above points:

Advocate, The. The Austin car owners' journal. ⟨Austin motor company.⟩ 1-16^{8}. Birmingham. Dec. 1911-Aug. 1927. then The Austin magazine and advocate. ns 1- . London. Oct. 1927- . BAU ii 15- ; BC ii 20-21*, 22- ; BP; L i 13^{3}- ; O ii 1-9^{8}.

This shows that:

BAU	has a set from vol. 15 of the new (2nd) series.
BC	has vols. 20-21 imperfect of the 2nd series, and vol. 22 onwards.
BP	has a complete set.
L	has a set from vol. 13 part 3 of the 1st series.
O	has vols. 1 to 9 part 8 of the second series.

Aluminium world ⟨and brass and bronze industries; and brass and copper industries⟩, The. 1-8. New York. Oct. 1894-Dec. 1902. then with The Brass founder and finisher and The Electroplaters' review b Metal industry. 1-38^{5}. June 1903-May 1940. then Metal finishing 38^{6}- . June 1940- . BP b 3-7, 34- ; BT b 4-7; BU b 1^{7}-7^{7}; LBA b 39- (w 45); LP*; SP b 24-44.

— [Supplement.] Organic finishing. 1- . Oct. 1939- . BP 1939-44; LMB 12^{3}- .

This shows that:

BP	has b (i.e. Metal industry), vols. 3-7, and vol. 34 onwards.
BT	has b vols. 4-7.
BU	has b vol. 1 part 7 to vol. 7 part 7.
LBA	has b vol. 39 onwards (but wanting vol. 45).
LP	has a complete set (a and b) but for some imperfections.
SP	has b vols. 24-44.
BP	has 1939-44 of the Supplement.
LMB	has vol. 12 part 3 onwards of the Supplement.

The letters [a understood] b, c, etc. are used to denote changes of title when combined with new volume-numbering.

LIBRARY SYMBOLS

After the location symbols and name of each Library will be found the following signs denoting the facilities available for the use of its periodicals:

1. Available on loan:
   - (a) Through the national inter-library lending system for use only within the borrowing library.
   - (b) Through the national inter-library lending system for home use by individuals.
   - (c) By direct loan:
     - (1) To Libraries.
     - (2) To individuals.
2. Available for reference:
   - (a) To callers in general.
   - (b) To individuals suitably introduced.
   - (c) To members only.
3. Material can be copied for enquirers by means of:
   - (a) Microfilm.
   - (b) Other photographic copying apparatus.

It must be understood that in all cases where libraries express willingness to lend material, either directly or through one of the inter-library lending schemes, the privilege is at the discretion of the librarians. Rare material, or material difficult to replace, is usually held for reference use within the owning library.

When arrangements are made for photographic reproduction, care must be taken to ensure that no infringement of copyright is involved.
